

Well Dressed

People judge other people by their clothes. It may be wrong, probably in some cases. It is every woman's right to be well dressed. It is every woman's right to be as well dressed as she can be. If she can't feel that she is properly clothed she can't be comfortable; can't enjoy herself, or take her proper part in the affairs of life

How.

The problem is, how to be well dressed on little money. The first thing is to find the right store to buy from. Money is only good for what it will buy. It is worth most where it will buy most.

Where.

We don't believe there's a better place in America for Liverpool ladies to buy goods than right in our store. In buying and selling we have the interest of our patrons in mind, as well as our own, and we try to gain trade by deserving it.

When.

Now's the time to begin to look about for fall and winter goods. There certainly never was a time that we had so good a stock, and prices so low. The new fall dress goods, cloaks and trimmings are all in stock awaiting your inspection at

TO ORGANIZED LABOR

Read Carefully the Circular Put Out by Trades Council

AND DETERMINE ITS CHARACTER

And We Think You Will Reach the Opinion That There is Nothing Illegal, Unfair, Unjust or Unmanly Embraced Therein—The Circular is Simply an Appeal to Organized Labor and the Friends Thereof.

"The Trades council of this city, the local Typographical union and members connected therewith, have been sued by one James Deidrick, the publisher of a paper issued in East Liverpool, said paper being designated, by said Trades council, as an unfair and non-union sheet, opposed to organized labor. It is said that an injunction may have been granted by the county court, restraining anyone from distributing said circulars until a hearing has been had, in response to the plea of said James Deidrick. Such an injunction may have been granted, and it may not, as those most interested in the matter have had no official notice thereof up to date of Monday morning, Sept. 17, and their acquaintance with the prosecutor in this case make them take any assertion coming from him, either verbal or printed, with due grains of allowance.

"To organized labor and the friends thereof we would simply say, 'read the circular.' I am neither a lawyer, nor yet the son of a lawyer. But I have been given to understand that law is justice. Looking at law from this standpoint, I can see nothing illegal or unjust in the circular in question. It is simply an appeal to organized labor and the friends of organized labor. Not an appeal to business men of our city. Not a boycott at all in the legal sense of the term; but simply an appeal to organized labor and labor's friends to beware of an enemy. I may be incorrect in this from a legal standpoint, and the law, as at present constituted, may not coincide with me; but justice, plain and unvarnished, will back me up in my opinion, and the great masses of our people, the men who eventually make the law, will see to it that simple justice is meted out to organized labor.

"James Deidrick has for years posed as the warm advocate and staunch friend of unionism and organized labor. Indeed, through this medium alone has he obtained anything like financial success. He has gone beyond the limit of just and fair unionism, and, for hope of greater financial returns, has ever attempted to array capital against labor, not caring for the best vital interests of East Liverpool, but simply looking for dollars and cents for James Deidrick.

"Is this not true as truth? Look at the stand the fellow has taken. Just as soon as he felt unionism tug at his purse strings, he cried out vehemently and at once introduced unfair, non-union, rat labor on his premises. Every effort has been made by intelligent unionists to have him act fairly. To committees other than printers who waited upon him he has acted courteously, and with keen cunning has attempted, and with partial success, to show that he has been a much abused personage, that he has been treated unfairly, that his employees are union printers, and that he is a model friend of workmen and of organized labor. To committees of printers who have many times waited upon him, men who are thoroughly acquainted with the true state of affairs, Deidrick has acted the part of a boor and a tough, and has sneered at their efforts at compromise or conciliation, virtually telling them that he was too keen and smart for them, and that the printer's union in this city was a corpse, not to be resurrected until the trumpet of Gabriel echoed and reached over the land.

"But the cunning fellow over-reached himself. The officials of the local printers' union, finding that forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, and that Deidrick gave them nothing but insults and sneers, and that he was determined to run an unfair office, carried their case before the International Typographical union, and the result was that the Crisis was, by that powerful body, declared a rat office. Then the matter was brought before the local Trades council, representing every branch of trade in the city but the bricklayers' union, and this body also declared the Crisis a non-union paper.

"The next move was the issuing of the circular which has so stirred up and agitated James Deidrick. He could sneer at the printers' union and laugh the members to scorn, defying them to do their worst, and clearly of the opinion, in his narrow soul and mind, that they possessed no power; and yet, just as soon as they issued said circular, and almost before the ink was dry upon its pages, he whines like a coward, and resorts to law, asserting in his plea that said circular has 'caused him to suffer great loss and irreparable injury.'

"The result of Deidrick's suit be what it may, he has for all time destroyed any power or influence he may have possessed with unionism or organized labor.

"And let me say, right here, that organized labor has rights which must be respected. Not the right to impose upon anyone; but undoubtedly the right to defend itself against all attacks and all enemies. Unionists have the right to organize and take care of themselves; a right which is recognized by manufacturers when they themselves form unions and combinations, in order that they may best take care of themselves and their business interests. There is no greater truth enunciated than that 'in unity there is strength.'

"In conclusion, members of organized labor, let us make it our aim to avoid trouble with our employers. Let us make a strike the place of LAST resort. Let us make every effort at compromise or conciliation before a strike is allowed or ordered. The interests of ourselves and our employers are identical, and, as intelligent men, we should ever and always make it our aim to avoid serious trouble by working on the principle of MEAN and FOR-BEAR.

"Every effort was made to have James Deidrick act fairly, but in vain. He was evidently determined to kill, if possible, the printers' union of this city. With strange ignorance and stupidity, born of the stubbornness of his nature, he took a direct stand against organized labor, although he has been posing for years as the friend and advocate of unionism. We leave his case in the hands of a fair minded public.

UNIONIST.
PARTITION OF LAND.
A Salem Man Brings Action Against a Neighbor.

NEW LISBON, Sept. 17.—Joshua J. Boone, of Salem, placed an action on file today against Robert O. Campbell, asking for partition of land in Perry township in which each of these parties own a one-half interest. The land in question consists of two tracts, one containing 32.76 acres and one 60 stalo right of way over a tract of land adjoining lands owned by the P. F. W. & C. railway company.

The deeds transferred today are as follows:
Patrick McGeever to Mary McGeever, lot 1.797 in McKinnon's addition to East Liverpool, $50. Margaret McDonald and others to A. H. Davis, all the coal underlying 40 acres in Washington township, $1,200. G. C. Coffee and wife to Catharine C. Arnold, lot 1.811 in Knowles, Taylor & Anderson's addition to East Liverpool, $1,500. Abner Martin and wife to Ida I. Grosshans, half of lot 2.019 in Brooks & Purinton's addition to East Liverpool, $500. John W. Spahr and wife to Samuel F. Moore, lot 1.991 in Basil Simms, executor, addition to East Liverpool, $1,225. Richard H. Boulton and wife to John Bossert, part of lot 1.925 in East Liverpool, $850.

Marriage Licenses.—L. P. Vaughn and Mary A. Dougherty, C. W. Sutherland and Cora Lewis, Robert S. Surles and Ida B. Graham, Asby C. Neil and Olive R. Reeder, George Lones and Etta Chamberlain, John Thompson and Maggie Williams.

The will of the late James Godwin, of East Liverpool, was admitted to probate Saturday afternoon.

Two Teachers of Skating.

Thomas McGuire, of New York, and Charles Berington, also of the east, have been secured by the management of the new grounds of the Young Men's Christian association Athletic club, in East End, as teachers of skating in the park this winter. The park will be flooded just as soon as the first cold weather puts in an appearance and the managers expect to make it a popular source of amusement.

Moved to Maryland.

J. B. Bell, who has been farming near Clarkson for several years, having moved there from Zanesville, was in town Saturday night arranging for the removal of his family to Maryland. The gentleman is interested in a company which manufactures ducking and other heavy fabrics.

RAFF NOMINATED ON FIRST BALLOT

Resolution Condemning Brice—Its Introduction Meets With Force—Opposition. Committee Appointed—Morning Session—Brice Resolution Carried With a Whirl—Latest by Telegraph.

Special to News Review.

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 11.—The Democratic convention met at 11 o'clock this morning. Enthusiasm not at all prominent. No accommodations for newspaper men. This, however, was due to neglect rather than intention, as the members of the untariffed have given your correspondent royally good treatment. The convention was called to order by W. J. Piero, of Canton, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee of this district. Mr. Piero then announced that it had been decided to call A. W. Taylor, of Salem, as temporary chairman. Taylor took the chair amid applause, and made a pithy and well-timed speech, winding up by calling for the secretaries of the different delegations. Columbiana responded with Michael Miskall, Mahoning with U. T. Kistler and Stark with J. H. Rignier.

Committee on permanent organization—Columbiana—Conrad Hune. Mahoning—Doctor Campbell. Stark—George Fisher.

Committee on rules and order of business—Columbiana—Dr. A. W. Shiller. Mahoning—N. V. Stacey. Stark—Dr. A. C. Brunt.

Committee on resolutions—Columbiana—J. C. Deidrick. Mahoning—W. J. Wolf. Stark—W. W. Roberts.

The choosing of a congressional committee to serve for the next two years was then in order, and the following were named: Columbiana—George Aten and George Walton. Mahoning—W. T. Gibson and R. E. Funkhauser. Stark—W. J. Piero and John C. Devine. The convention then adjourned to re-convene at 1 o'clock.

In conversation with a well known Democratic politician this morning, your correspondent was informed that the fight is between John H. Clarke, of Youngstown, and Edward Raff, of Canton. When Mahoning county delegates came in this morning, they gave Clarke a royal send off. He refused the temporary chairmanship, and it is believed here that he can have the congressional nomination if he is at all eager for the same.

At 1 o'clock commenced again. Slight enthusiasm. A. W. Taylor, of Salem, temporary chairman. Report of committee on rules and business heard. Committee on credentials and organization followed. Then came nominations of candidates; speeches limited to five minutes. Report of committee on credentials showed all there but part Mahoning delegation. Usual arrangements made to fill vacancies. A. W. Taylor made permanent chairman. M. E. Miskall, East Liverpool, permanent secretary. — Rager, Stark, assistant. Chairman Taylor made a speech. Said they desired to nominate a man who would lead Democrats to victory. Repeated it twice before applauded. Said they had not a happy duty to perform, but were going to do it to the best of their ability. Committee on credentials behind time in reporting. A. J. Wolfe, of Youngstown, took advantage of delay and nominated Rev. J. C. Taylor, of East Liverpool for congress, making an exceptionally strong speech. Deidrick then reported on credentials. A resolution introduced condemning Brice and other conservative senators for interfering with passage of Wilson bill. George R. Fisher opened the ball, jumping to his feet and taking issue against the resolution. Attorney Billy Maline, Youngstown, prominent Democrat, followed in defense of Brice. He condemned the resolution in hot terms. John H. Clark replied at great length and with strong force to Maline. The resolution condemning Brice was adopted with a whirl. Nomination from Stark county brought out Charles Kreichbaum, who nominated Edward Raff, of Canton. J. H. Rignier, of Canton, seconded nomination. Raff was nominated on the first ballot, the vote being Raff, Mahoning 28, Stark 41, Taylor, Columbiana 45, Mahoning 28, Stark 11. The nomination was made unanimous amid some kicking.

How He Would March.

A group of well known Grand army men sat in front of the postoffice late Saturday afternoon discussing the late encampment when one of them remarked that there would be no more marching for him. He believed that they should reverse the order of affairs now by getting each veteran at the next encampment a chair, and letting them sit on the pavement while the people passed by in review. He thought that would be the best arrangement he could imagine, and believed it would become popular. The others agreed with him.

Died in Cleveland.

Lee Calder, who will be remembered by many persons in this city as having been sent to the asylum at Cleveland a year ago, died at that institution Friday of last week. He was a member of the Junior Mechanics and well known. The remains were interred in Cleveland yesterday, his wife and child being present at the funeral. The unfortunate ending of a life which had all the promise of vigorous manhood is deeply regretted by the many friends of deceased in this place.

Coopers' Strike.

The coopers in two of the uptown shops went out this morning because of a reduction of from two and one-half to five per cent. The men say they have been working under price all along and cannot stand another reduction. They are all members of the Coopers union which U. G. King, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, organized a short time ago.

FIVE POISONED.
Members of the Thompson Family Eat Bad Mushrooms.

Five members of W. H. Thompson's family are seriously ill and it is believed that they have been poisoned. They ate very heartily of mushrooms for their dinner yesterday and shortly afterward the entire five showed signs of sickness. They were soon violently ill and a physician was called to administer antidotes. Today they are much better but still sick enough to require medical attention. If it was not for their mushroom feast the family would believe that the stench from the run near their home on Seventh street, which is at times terrible, caused their illness.

BUSY POLICE.

They Find Numerous Victims Saturday Night—Huntsman Caught.

Mrs. Belle Nelson, for being drunk and disorderly at her home on Broadway, was arrested by Officer Badgley. She paid $7.50 and was released.

John Coslow was drunk last night. Chief Gill and the patrol took him in. His liberty cost him $8.00.

Charles Jackson imbibed Saturday night. Officer Wyman got him near the Salvation Army barracks, and he was fined $6.00.

A Cleveland bum enjoyed himself by ringing door bells while he was drunk Saturday night. Officer Badgley captured him, and he is still in jail.

Kelley Huntsman was arrested by Chief Gill on a charge of holding up Leith Young. He pleaded not guilty and was committed to jail for a hearing. His partner, Dick Jackson, has not been caught.

John Rinehart's case has been postponed owing to the Rheinheimer funeral this afternoon.

DISTURBANCES.

There Were a Few of Them in the City Saturday Night.

Several fights occurred Saturday night, but the arrests were few and far between.

East End was as lively as usual Saturday night, and a few disputes occurred, but no serious encounters were heard of.

Midway was the scene of a general all around mill, in which about 25 participated. No one was seriously hurt, and the fighters quit when they became tired.

A boy by the name of Morrow was teasing a man named Davis, near the corner of Sixth and Washington streets, and finally dragged an old broom in mud and struck Davis. This was more than the man could stand, and he grabbed the youngster and gave him a sound thrashing. Although young Morrow was not badly hurt he will remember the occurrence for some time.

A JAP VICTORY.

Terrific Battle Between Japanese and Chinese Forces.

Special to News Review.

SEOUL, Sept. 16.—Terrific battle between the Chinese and Japanese armies on Saturday at Ping Yang. The Japanese surrounded the Chinese army and literally cut it to pieces, inflicting a loss upon the enemy of some 16,000, including Tee Fung, the Chinese commander. The Japanese are now ready to attack Peking. The Chinese must give up Korea.

FELL UNDER A TRAIN

A Liverpool Man Cut to Pieces at Beaver Falls.

WILLIAM RHEINHEIMER'S SAD FATE

He Was a Well Known Potter of This City and Was Riding From Bridge-water to East Palestine on a Freight Train—Taken to Wellsville and Buried Here This Afternoon.

Death in a terrible form was the portion of an East Liverpool man at Beaver Falls Saturday night.

William Rheinheimer was the unfortunate party. Just how the accident occurred will probably remain a mystery. It is supposed that he was riding between the cars and going to sleep fell beneath the wheels. At any rate, when the second section of the freight train due in Beaver Falls at 8:02, Saturday evening, reached the first crossing below the town, the engineer noticed the mangled remains of someone unknown to him lying alongside the tracks. The train was stopped and the body gathered up. Rheinheimer had been cut into pieces by the wheels of the preceding train. His head was severed from the body, his left arm and leg cut into several pieces and other parts of his body crushed and lacerated until he was beyond recognition. The remains were taken to Beaver Falls and there a receipt bearing the name of William Rheinheimer from a Bridgewater tailor showed that he had paid $10 on a suit of clothes. Two pay envelopes from the East Palestine pottery bore the same name and proved beyond a doubt who the unfortunate man was. Relatives in this city were sent for immediately, but the word did not reach here until yesterday morning. William Bixby, of East End, with whose mother Rheinheimer boarded while working here, Jefferson Patterson, of Wellsville, a brother-in-law of the dead man, and Frank O'Hanlon, with Undertaker Rinehart, went to Beaver Falls and prepared for the shipment of the remains to Wellsville on the 8:30 train this morning. The funeral took place this afternoon, with interment in Spring Grove cemetery.

The deceased was a potter and aged about 23 years. He was well known and had many friends in this city. He was employed at the Burford and Goodwin potteries while in this city, but for about a year has been with the East Palestine Pottery company as a presser. He was the son of Adam Rheinheimer and leaves two sisters, Miss Kate, of West End, and Mrs. James Stewart, of New Brighton.

It can be said that he did not ride the freight train by choice, as he had over $5 in his pocket when found. He had evidently missed the train and took the only other chance of riding home.

Liverpool Won the Game.

Wellsville played ball with New Lisbon Saturday and as usual the sister city called upon our boys to win the game for them. The McShane boys, Percy Albright, Wheatley, Joe Carey and Will McNutt, all well known players from this city, made up the best part of the Wellsville team, and played good ball. Two games were played the first being won by the Wellsville team after 11 innings had interested and amused the big crowd gathered to see the contests. Short Stop McShane won the game by driving a two bagger into left field, and letting the winning score come in. Percy Albright pitched a good game, and all the boys played well. The second game was won by the visitors, darkness ending the game with six innings, the score being 5-7. The score of the first game by innings is as follows:
Wellsville... 1 0 2 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—7
New Lisbon... 0 0 1 0 0 4 1 0 0 0—6

One of the most interesting features of the game, and an innovation that was generally appreciated, was the Oriental music produced by an orchestra from this city.

Mechanics to Play again.

The Senior and Junior Mechanics have arranged for another game of ball to be played on the West End grounds next Thursday afternoon. The two parties believe that this will settle the question of superiority, although the juniors think they are in the lead enough to be called the winners. A lively time is expected, as each council will have its best men at work, and every man will do his best to win the victory.

Secured a Position.

Miss Jennie Crable, of this city, lately employed at the millinery establishment of Miss Lizzie Wilson, has secured a position with the well-known millinery house of A. L. Rice, of Wheeling.

TO OUR READERS.

The Trades and Labor Council of East Liverpool, in full session assembled, warmly advocates the News Review as the only paper in this City of East Liverpool employing union labor exclusively, and advocating the cause of legitimately and lawfully organized labor.

The News Review believes in fair play—justice to workers and employers alike—and will stand or fall on this platform. Fair play is a jewel of untarnished and undimmed lustre, and all citizens will receive fair play in these columns.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, SEPT. 17.

THAT circus will kill Coxe and his movement.

WHEN the congressional campaign opens in this district it will be a beauty and no mistake.

THE NEWS REVIEW pays the best wages to its employees. Any printer on the force will attest it.

The women of Kentucky proved on Saturday that they can influence the men by giving Owens a vote he never would have received had they not been praying at the polls.

THE Democrat who is nominated by the Alliance convention today will have the honor of being soundly thrashed by Mr. Robert W. Taylor at the polls next November.

THERE is an eternal fitness in the declaration of that Indiana judge that the only flag for America was Old Glory, and the whole nation would have a word to say before any other was adopted.

THE NEWS REVIEW employs the best printers in this section, pays the highest wages, pays promptly every Saturday afternoon, and has the good will of every employee connected therewith. None but union printers are engaged on this paper. The employees have from six to nine hours less work each week than do those engaged on unfair, non-union papers. These facts tell their own story. Ananias don't count.

ROSE & DIX, our well known and trustworthy citizens, having charge of the circulation of the NEWS REVIEW, are the only authorized solicitors for this paper. Any one, other than the above named gentleman, engaged in attempting to take subscribers throughout this city, is a fraud and cheat. We have designated business houses in the city, where you can leave your names as subscribers, if you so desire, and Messrs. Rose & Dix will see that the paper is delivered promptly.

It is reasonable to suppose that if a Republican majority is elected to the next house of representatives there will be changes in the tariff bill, and among them will be an increase in the duty on crockery. To make the required number of congressmen it is necessary for every Republican district now represented by a Democrat to elect a protectionist, and the old Eighteenth must be in line. There are too many protected industries in these three counties to again trust them to the tender mercies of a Democratic representative.

A PITIFUL CONDITION.

The Democrats of Ohio are not cheerful. They do not look upon the coming campaign and election through the roseate lenses of hope. Instead, the greater portion are saying nothing. They are not reviving their own party, neither are they endorsing it. While they can not teach themselves to draw away from the original idea that they are Democrats, they are not so enthusiastic over the party that they are stumbling over each other to seek the doubtful honor of becoming its candidates. A glance over the leading Brier and Cleveland organs of the state fails to show where there is one man seeking a nomination at the coming state convention. While this marks the situation as unique as it is painful, there is the contest between the Brier and Cleveland factions to make matters interesting for the delegates. They will fight among themselves if they cannot muster enough party feeling to face the enemy, and the situation in state politics seems the situation all over the country. Even in the south they are lethargic; but who imagined it would spread to the fiery rooster of Ohio?

WELLMAN IN LONDON.

His Party Sails For New York on Wednesday.

BAD YEAR FOR ARCTIC EXPLORERS

The Failure of Peary's Expedition as Well as His Own, Mr. Wellman Says, Proves It—Didn't Abandon Prof. Oyen—Peary Remains in Greenland.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Mr. Walter Wellman, the leader of the American Arctic expedition, whose plans to explore the far north were frustrated by the sinking of his vessel, the Ragnvald, which was crushed by the ice, will sail from Southampton for New York on Wednesday next by the steamer Sprea. He will be accompanied by the American members of his party.

In the course of an interview with your representative Mr. Wellman said that the failure of Lieutenant Peary to reach North Greenland shows, that like the Wellman expedition, he met with unusual difficulties arising from the extremely unfavorable season. Altogether, Mr. Wellman declared, it had been a bad year for Arctic exploration.

He warmly defended his expedition against the charges made of inexperience and bad outfit. He especially protested that he had not abandoned Prof. Oyen on Dane's Island. The professor, he added, had 1,200 pounds of provisions on the island and was therefore in no danger whatever of suffering for lack of food. Prof. Oyen himself had publicly absolved him from the charge of abandonment. In conclusion Mr. Wellman stated that all the Norwegian members of the expedition had promised to accompany the next expedition. As to Messrs. French, Mohr and Dodge, truer, braver or better men could not be found.

PEARY'S TRIP FAILS.

His Party Returns to Newfoundland Without Him—Fearful Experiences.

ST. JOHN, N. F., Sept. 17.—The steamer Falcon, Captain Henry Bartlett, has returned here bringing back the whole personnel of the Peary expedition of last year, except Lieutenant Peary himself, Hugh Lee, a companion, and Matthew Henson, a colored servant, all of whom remain at Bowdoin Bay for another year, hoping to accomplish the work of the expedition which is still left unfulfilled.

The story of the expedition is very thrilling. The first incident of note was the birth of Mrs. Peary's baby, on Sept. 12, 1893, a month after the Falcon left last year.

Two attempts were made to cross Greenland, which proved failures on account of the severe weather.

Consequently Lieutenant Peary decided to abandon the attempt and returned to headquarters, which were reached on April 20. The party were absent about 40 days and only got 130 miles. It started with 92 dogs and returned with only 26, after having abandoned all the sledges on the way.

It covered only a quarter of the distance necessary and never made more than 20 miles in any day.

The members of the party claimed that their experience in the equatorial gates was worse than that of any previous Arctic explorers. All had very narrow escapes from being frozen to death. After the party regained health other explorations in the neighborhood were organized.

While going north the Falcon searched Carey Islands, Cape Faraday and Clarence Head, but found no traces of the long missing Swede explorers, Björling and Kalstén, who sailed from here in June, 1892, in the little schooner Ripple. Their death is now regarded as certain.

They Sustain Hanrahan.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—The convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen has unanimously adopted resolutions sustaining the position of Vice Grand Master Hanrahan in the American Railway union strike of June and July, in advising members of the brotherhood, who went on strike through sympathy, not to work with non-union men.

Won't Pay Sugar Bounties.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Secretary Carlisle has written a letter to Senator Manderson declining to pay any sugar bounty since the date of the new tariff act. The secretary states that he has arrived at the conclusion that such payments cannot be made without further legislation by congress.

An Elusive Wife Murderer.

LIBRAN, Pa., Sept. 17.—The principal topic of conversation in Lebanon continues to be the Garrett wife murder. In view of the mysterious disappearance of the murderer and the fruitlessness of the search for him, County commissioners Sholly, Kreider and Henry held a meeting and increased the reward for his capture from $100 to $300.

Emperor Joseph Gives a Reception.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 17.—Emperor Francis Joseph gave a formal reception at Buda castle to the members of the delegations. His majesty made a short speech in which he dwelt upon the peaceful aspect of Europe and the friendly relations existing between the powers.

Going to the Cleveland Convention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A delegation of letter carriers of this city, some of them accompanied by their wives, have left here on the West Shore railroad for Cleveland to attend the fifth annual convention of letter carriers.

BAD FOR THE MINERS.

They Will Have to Fight to Keep Rates Up In Pittsburgh District.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—National organizer Cameron Miller of the United Mine Workers of America has come to Pittsburgh and is looking into the situation which is threatening the miners, as the result of their failure to maintain the district price at the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company at Turtle Creek.

A meeting of the board of arbitration of miners and operators, which was appointed during the Columbus settlement, will be held. Under the terms of the settlement all local differences are to be submitted to this board, which contains representatives of both sides from every state in the agreement.

Mr. Miller says the miners will fight for the district price of 69 cents. To yield a lower rate would mean a reduction of the wages of every miner in the United States, as all the fields are more or less competitors. The miners take the position that so long as a majority of the operators are paying the scale price that price may fairly be said to prevail. A number of firms are paying less than the scale price in the Pittsburgh district. The operators say that the lake trade will soon be over upon the closing of navigation, and then the mines running non-union will be able to supply much more trade and will take custom from operators paying higher prices.

But Probably Temporarily Insane.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17.—Milton A. Bell, who killed himself in New York, was well-known in this city. He had been engaged in business here for some time as a broker and money lender, with an office at 29 Euclid avenue, and lived at Collinwood, a suburban village. He went to New York last Monday and nothing had been heard from him until the news of his death was received by his relatives. Mr. Bell's brother, who is a dentist here, said that he could think of no reason why his brother should desire to kill himself and the only theory he advances is that the man was temporarily insane.

No Damage Suits at Johnstown.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 17.—After the great flood $1,500 was raised by the business men here to pay for the preliminaries toward instituting suit for damages against the South Fork Fishing club on account of the flood. A fee of $1,000 was paid to lawyers for an opinion, which was not favorable, and at a formal meeting the other night, the idea of bringing suit was wholly abandoned, and the remainder of the fund was turned over to the hospital. This will end all further thought of claims for damages, as a number of individuals, who had thought of bringing suit, will now give it up.

M. E. Elders Elected.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 17.—The M. E. state conference elected the following elders: G. W. Bront, W. C. L. Correll, A. J. L. Curtis, E. A. Davis, J. H. Endow, W. P. Gwynn, F. M. Malcom and Martin Talbot. C. B. Mason, D. D., of Cincinnati addressed the conference on the "Freedman's Aid." Parkersburg was considered for the next place of holding conference, but no action was taken.

A Boy Kidnaped.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—While Johnny Snyder, aged 4 years, was playing in front of his father's house, 133 Willow street, a farmer drove up, and seizing the boy placed him in his wagon and drove away. He was pursued, but escaped. It is found that the kidnaper lives near Central College, this county, and officers have been sent there.

Disseminated From Gettysburg Water.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 17.—A score of the members of Company H, Ninth regiment of the national guard of Pennsylvania, who attended the encampment at Gettysburg, are down with typhoid fever in its worst form. Private Nelson Tearison has died and Privates Siles and Harbey are not expected to live. The men are supposed to have drunk polluted water at Gettysburg.

A Justice Who Wasn't Qualified.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Sept. 17.—It has been discovered that Justice of the Peace William J. Early of Washington, who has been holding court for over a year, has never qualified by filing his bond or being registered. The discovery has created considerable excitement in legal circles.

Murdered His Wife.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Sept. 17.—Sherman Cox, living near this city, has shot and instantly killed his wife. Mrs. Cox was visiting in the country and her husband went after her. She refused to return. A quarrel ensued and Cox, becoming exasperated, drew a revolver and shot her.

Wire Mills to Start Up.

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 17.—The Stewart Wire company, whose mills here have been idle for a year, during which time the company was reorganized, will start up on Sept. 24. New machinery and new blood are expected to materially aid in the successful operation of the plant.

A Minister Reinstated.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 17.—An incident in the West Virginia conference of the Methodist church, now in session, that is creating no little comment, is the reinstatement of Rev. Chenoweth into the ministry. A year ago he was summarily expelled.

Released on a Defective Indictment.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—James Winn, a convict from Ashtabula county, has been released on a finding by the circuit court that the indictment was defective. The crime was burglary, and Winn would have been released in December, anyhow.

The Count's Political Testament.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—The Gaulois says that the Comte d'Haussonville has in his possession and will shortly publish the political testament of the Comte de Paris, head of the royal house of France, who died a few days ago at Stowe House, England.

A Moravian Minister Dead.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 17.—The Rev. Edwin Klose has died after a lingering illness, aged 49 years. He filled many positions of trust in the Moravian church after being ordained a deacon by Bishop Henry A. Shultz.

DESHA NOT WHIPPED.

He Is Certain His Father Has Beaten Owens.

OFFICIAL COUNT GOING ON TODAY.

Breckinridge Detectives Trying to Find Grounds for Charges of Fraud—Christian Church and the Ladies Boomed Things For Owens—Deacons Fight.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 17.—The official vote in the Democratic primaries is going on here today, and as a majority of the elections committee favors Breckinridge, it is expected that advantage will be taken of every contested vote to beat the colonel.

Bishop Duncan, in a prayer before the Methodist conference here, thanked God that the right had been upheld in putting down bad men who aspired to public office.

The Owens men claim the election of Owens by 410 plurality, while the Breckinridge men claim his plurality is only 169. It is believed by many well posted Owens men that Breckinridge will contest the election, but he declines to talk for publication.

The best figures obtainable here give totals for candidates as follows: Owens, 7,900; Breckinridge, 7,670; Settle, 3,405. Owens' plurality, 320. The expected returns will probably vary but little from these figures.

Desha Breckinridge says he is confident of his father's election. Said he: "I cannot give out a statement by committee, but our latest reports reduce Owens' plurality to 141. I am sure that the count will be given us by the district committee when it meets. If it does not I am not prepared to say what will follow, maybe a contest."

Dr. R. L. Mohoney, a Breckinridge detective, has been sent to Henry county to see if he could find grounds for charges of fraud against the officers of one precinct in the county, which gave Owens an overwhelming majority and thereby threw the Owens vote out. M. A. Cassidy, another detective employed by the Breckinridge forces is in Owens county on a similar mission. Breckinridge leaders claim that in Scott county Owens received many fraudulent votes, as 600 more Democrats voted in this county than at the last election.

A strong Breckinridge man, cashier in one of the banks here, attributed the defeat of his candidate to the opposition of Judge Morton and Prof. McGarvey of the Christian church. He said: "The Christian church has a very strong following here, and while ordinarily we should have thrown 800 or 1,000 plurality to Breckinridge, we carried Fayette county by only 205 votes."

The defeat can also be attributed to the women of the district, who used their prayers and their influence to encompass Breckinridge's defeat.

The people of Georgetown have not yet ceased celebrating the triumph of their honored fellow-citizen, Mr. Owens has been flooded with congratulations from all parts of the county.

A special from Paris, Ky., says: Sunday morning Deacon Horace Miller, an Owens man and Deacon J. D. Butler, who voted for Breckinridge were discussing the election. Hot words passed and Deacon Butler harpooned Deacon Miller in the ear with his umbrella, whereupon Deacon Miller blacked Deacon Butler's eye. They were separated.

True Bills Found.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The cases of Messrs. Havenmeyer and Seales of the sugar trust and Seymour of the brokerage firm of Seymour Bros. & Young of New York, who refused to give testimony before the sugar trust investigating committee, have been under consideration by the grand jury of the district. The cases were presented to the jury by the United States district attorney about a week ago and have been discussed by the jury men at practically every day's session since. A number of witnesses have been examined during the week. It is understood that true bills have been found against the three witnesses.

Murdered by the Doolin Gang.

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 17.—At Cob Creek, near Minco, L. T., an old Caddo Indian, in Ki-Wish, was strung up to a tree by the heels and shot through the head. On his breast was pinned a paper warning the Indian police to keep their hands off a band of outlaws known as the Doolin gang. It seems the dead man's son, who is an Indian police scout, got on the trail of this gang recently, and with a posse routed them from their rendezvous and in revenge the outlaws murdered the old man.

A Big Strike Probable.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—There is every indication that within a few days there will be inaugurated here one of the biggest strikes in the history of the clothing trade of New England. The various branches of the trade have held meetings and endorsed the recommendations of the clothing trade council that the lumping system be abolished and that the weekly wage system be established; also that a uniform number of working hours be established. If the manufacturers refuse, a strike will occur.

Emperor Praises the Troops.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—According to the papers of West Prussia, Emperor William, criticizing the recent manoeuvres of the Seventeenth army corps, said that the infantry were magnificent, the artillery beyond praise and the cavalry grand in attack.

A Prominent G. A. R. Man Dead.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.—Captain George B. Creamer, prominent in G. A. R. circles and a junior vice commander, has died, aged 63 years. He was of the firm of Taylor & Creamer, auctioneers. In the army he was with the Tenth Maryland regiment.

Had a Fearful Passage.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The steamer Itata has reached New York after weathering a fearful storm. The vessel was badly damaged and six of her officers and crew injured.

A BRAVE KANSAS GIRL.

She Locks an Office Safe and Orders a Robber to Shoot.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 17.—A daring robber entered the cashier's office of the T. L. Herbert company, painters' and decorators' supply house, and commanded Miss Eva Thompson, the cashier, a handsome young woman who was alone in the room, to open the safe, in which were several hundred dollars. She refused and he drew a revolver and commanded her to comply with his demand.

The door of the safe was closed but not locked and with rare courage, the young woman stepped toward it and grasped the combination. He thought she was in the act of opening the safe, but in fact she was locking it. She turned the combination knob, while he stood over her, pistol in hand, and then standing erect and undaunted before him she exclaimed: "Now shoot."

The fellow uttered an oath, pocketed his revolver and fled.

Commander Curtis in Charge.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—Commander Frank Curtis of the United States navy has arrived at the Homestead steelworks and taken charge of the work of inspecting government armor plates. Commander Curtis was at Homestead a few years ago, but left to take charge of the United States torpedo boat Vesuvius, the fastest craft of its kind in the world. The navy officials thought that a man higher in rank should have the responsible position of inspector-in-chief of armor plate at Homestead. The chief place was formerly held by an officer whose rank was that of a lieutenant.

Denounced the A. P. A.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The Central Labor union of this city, at a meeting here, denounced the A. P. A. as an organization unworthy of the endorsement of organized labor and claimed that its aim was to start a religious war among the people, an aim which they might become an easy prey to the capitalists. With this end in view it was voted to withdraw its delegates from the Union of Practical Progress on account of some of its leading officers being affiliated with that organization.

Poisoned by Ice Cream.

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 17.—The family of Mrs. C. B. Fitch, dined with the family of her brother-in-law, Mr. G. W. Allen. Soon after dinner the members of both families were taken violently ill and are in a critical condition. It is thought that two of the children will die. Physicians say that the people were poisoned by ice cream, of which all partook heartily. The ice cream was made from condensed milk.

Attempted Assault and Triple Murder.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 17.—At Luzerne, Leonard Blodgett, 55 years of age, who boarded with Edward Whitmore, attempted to assault Whitmore's daughter Dora. Her cries attracted her parents. Blodgett then shot Whitmore in the jaw, Mrs. Whitmore in the back and stabbed Dora with a penknife. Mrs. Whitmore will probably die, the others are not dangerously injured. Blodgett then escaped to the mountains.

A Militiaman Murdered.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—Peter Brill was found dead in bed in room 9 of the Boston house yesterday morning. Later in the day it was developed that a brutal murder had been committed and Thomas Mossman is now in central station, the confessed murderer of Peter Brill. He is a corporal in Company B, Fourteenth regiment, and the dead man was a member of the same company.

Foley's Murderess Guilty.

KENO, Nev., Sept. 17.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Alice Hartley, charged with the murder of State Senator M. D. Foley, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree, recommending the defendant to mercy of the court.

Newfoundland Would Join U. S.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—In an interview Sir John T. M. O'Brien, governor of Newfoundland, declares the people of that province are more inclined to join the United States than the Dominion of Canada.

A Naval Officer Dies of Cholera.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 17.—Captain W. P. Bridgeman of the United States man-of-war Baltimore has died here of Asiatic cholera. He contracted the disease recently in China.

Weather Forecast.

Generally fair; variable winds.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

Day K. Smith, president of the Duluth Transfer railway, died in Kansas City.

Rear Admiral Edward Y. McAnuley died in his summer home in Jamestown, R. I. William Weber, who killed his father-in-law in Reading, has been convicted of first degree murder.

The September term of court at Ridgeway, Pa., will not convene because the jury was improperly drawn.

More arrests have been made of persons said to be implicated in the lynching of the six negroes near Millington, Tenn.

Samuel Ogilvie, a prominent citizen of Maxon's Mill, Ky., was shot and instantly killed by a negro burglar. The murderer escaped.

The Empress Frederick has consented to be patroness of the international cookery exhibition to be held at Frankfurt-on-the-Main in October.

The three days' festivities in honor of the birthday of President Diaz and the declaration of the Mexican independence are in progress throughout Mexico.

N. W. Wheatley, prominent business man of Brainerd, Minn., and treasurer of a building and loan society, is missing and is said to be a defaulter to the amount of $29,000.

On a collision on the Delaware and Hudson branch between Schenectady and Saratoga, a freight train was wrecked and a brakeman killed. Disregard of orders was the cause.

Senator George F. Hoar of Massachusetts will preside over the national conference of Unitarian churches to be held in Saratoga on the 24th inst., and will deliver an address of eulogy on George William Curtis, the late president of the conference.

It is said that Myron R. Kent, under arrest at Minneapolis for embezzlement and as an accomplice in the murder of his wife, is none other than William Pancoast, who in May, 1874, stole $30,000 from the First National bank of Medina, O., of which he was cashier, and decamped.

People Like to Travel

for Business or Pleasure

When the accommodations are first-class and the conveniences complete.

Nowhere in the world are the enjoyments of travel so fully realized as on the Pennsylvania Lines.

This system of railroads is noted for promptness in adopting any device whereby the comfort of the traveling public will be enhanced.

The business man will find the fast trains and complete service especially adapted to his needs. As the most direct avenues of travel between the industrial centers of the United States, these lines have an advantage peculiar to them alone. They also constitute the principal thoroughfares to the Mountain and Ocean Resorts of the East, and to the Lake Region of the Northwest. Detailed information regarding them may be obtained upon application to any Pennsylvania Line Ticket Agent, or by addressing F. Vax Drexler, Chief Assistant

CHANG WILL COMMAND

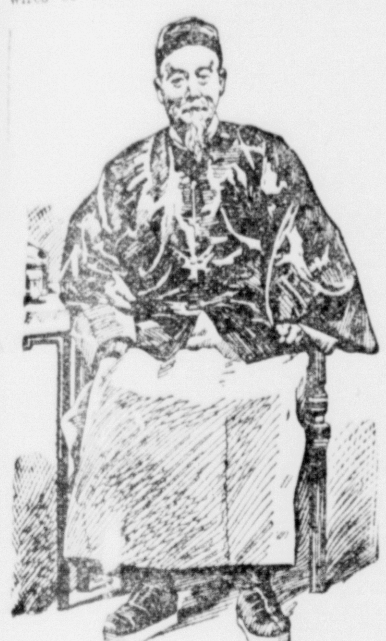

The Aged Premier Must Guide the Chinese Troops.

DEFEAT MEANS DANGER TO HIM.

His Ruler Greatly Displeased—Two Organs Appointed to Watch Him—Chinese and Japanese Fleets Playing Hide and Seek—A Newspaper Attack.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The steamer
Goswin has arrived here from Hong Kong and Yokohama bringing Japanese advisers to Sept. 2. Little or no intelligence was brought from China direct,
and the following notice, which appears
at the head of the editorial page in the China Gazette, a newspaper published in Shanghai, seems to indicate the difficulty of obtaining reliable information
from Chinese sources:

"In the present situation of affairs it is utterly useless to attempt to get any reliable information over the Chinese wires or from Chinese sources, and we

LI HUNG CHANG.

are compelled, therefore, to wait until
the Japanese official accounts of the progress of the war between China and Japan are first published in the press of the latter country and then get them telegraphed here. The Chinese have by their disgraceful mendacity in the Kow
shing affair, and their refusal to transmit any telegram which does not glorify them and mislead the public as to their true condition, cut themselves off from all chance of their reports being believed by people who want to get at the truth."

Chinese and Japanese fleets continue
to play the game of hide and seek at the mouth of the Gulf of Pechili. The ships of the "Middle Kingdom" conceal themselves so effectively that foreigners
in the open ports cannot speculate as to their position. The Japanese can accomplish little more than to check the transportation of Chinese troops to Korea and in this they have so far succeeded that further reinforcements, if undertaken at all, will go by land. But it appears to be doubted that China intends to strengthen her forces in the peninsula further. Most of the bodies
now in motion are said to be making
their way toward Tien Tsin and Peking,
the defense to the approaches to the capital being considered of the first moment. The whole country between the capital and the gulf is in great agitation. Correspondents from the interior write to The China Gazette that intense terror pervades the entire north of the empire.

The report is circulated that Li Hung Chang, though now 74 years of age, will be ordered to take personal command of the armies on the continent, notwithstanding the dissatisfaction of the court
with the result of his management up to this time. The humiliation inflicted upon him has gone no further than the withdrawal or suspension of his decorations
and the appointment of two high officials to watch his proceedings. But if the navy or army should meet with serious disaster, his position will be extremely dangerous.

Failure that cannot be kept from ex-posure is the only one unpardonable crime in Chinese statesmanship. While the military activity is chiefly shown in the north, considerable attention is given to strengthening fortifications along the coast.

The inactivity of the armies in Korea
gives rise to various surmises, particularly in Japan, where apprehensions of a renewed attack are expressed. The armies have been within a day's march of one another for some time. Trifling skirmishes are supposed to be investigated
by the Japanese to occupy the attention of the adversary while a strong body
proceeds north, intending to strike the Chinese in the rear before they can escape. Many rumors are in circulation.

Cisius His Daughter Was Stolen.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 17.—Between here and West Union, in Dodd-ridge county, every nook and corner
where it is possible for a young couple to hide has been searched to find a runaway couple. The girl is Miss Ada Hoskinson, daughter of Hon. W.
H. Hoskinson of the West Virginia legislature and one of the most prominent politicians in the state. The man is R.
L. Zeigler, an oil well employee. Their ages are respectively 17 and 27. The father claims that his daughter was stolen.

Killed a Divorced Woman.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 17.—J. W.
Stange, a civil engineer, shot and killed Mrs. Mabel Colvin on the street and then lay out his own brains. Mrs.
Colvin was walking alone when Stange
saw her. Mrs. Colvin was a handsome brunette and came here about two years ago from Woolwich, Mass. She was a divorced woman and refused Stange's attentions.

The Dead Editors Buried.

WACO, Tex., Sept. 17.—The funeral of J. L. Goodman and B. Y. Armstrong,
the Gatesville editors who shot each other, has taken place here.

AN IMPORTANT CONVENTION.

Delegates Plan to Have Ocean Vessels Go
to Duluth.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—The International Deep Waterways convention which convened here today promises to be the most important gathering ever held on this continent. Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Duluth, Toledo and other important centers have representatives here.

One of the greatest schemes to be considered is the deepening of the canals
along the St. Lawrence river, connecting Lake Ontario and other great lakes in the west with the Atlantic ocean to a depth of 20 feet, so that they will allow the passage of ocean-going vessels to Duluth and all other American ports on the inland lakes.

Johnson Had a Walkaway.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17.—Tom L. Johnson had a walkaway for the renoma-tion in the Democratic congressional convention of the Twenty-first district Saturday. Johnson got the nomination
by acclamation, and he made a speech of acceptance in which he reiterated his
well known ideas regarding tariff reform.

General Logan's Sister Suicides.

MURKINSHORE, Ills., Sept. 17.—Mrs.
Anna Rogers has died from an overdose of morphine. Mrs. Rogers was a sister of General John A. Logan. It is not known why she took the fatal dose.
She was 60 years of age, and has two brothers living, Colonel T. M. Logan of this city and James V. Logan of Olney.

A New Bishop For India.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 17.—Rev.
Peter Joseph Hurth, for the past eight years president of St. Edward's college,
Austin, Tex., was consecrated bishop
Sunday at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Notre Dame, Bishop Rademacher
of Fort Wayne acting as celebrant.

A Victim of Racing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Albert E. Rafalsky, a commercial traveler from New York, committed suicide by taking morphine. He had been out of work for several weeks and a pile of pool tickets
found in his room indicated that he had been losing heavily on the races.

NO LEAGUE CHANGE.

President Brush Denies It Will Be Cut to Eight Clubs.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 17.—John T.
Brush, president of the Cincinnati ball club, denies that there is any truth in the reported reduction of the National League to eight clubs.

"The suggestion," said Mr. Brush,
"that certain clubs shall be dropped
from the National League because they are last in the race, strikes me as little better than idiotic. As long as there are 12 clubs in the league, some club will be first and some club will be twelfth. If two or four clubs were to be dropped off
this year because they finish toward the bottom of the list, then next year I suppose they would drop off a couple more,
until finally you would have one club,
that would insist on playing all by itself.
The 12-club league is practically national, and it does not desire to contract
its scope."

"The working of the 12-club league has been satisfactory, and it will be continued on that basis. The season from a financial standpoint has been fairly successful. The east has made money, the interest there being greatly stimulated by the position of its clubs, and the western club will at least make expenses. Owing to the rule for the division of gate receipts, I don't think there is a single club that will not get out as good as even."

GAMES PLAYED YESTERDAY.

The Cincinnati Break the Baltimore's Winning Streak—Other Contests.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 17.—The Reds broke Baltimore's winning record, stopping the Orioles
after they had won eighteen straight games.
There were two games. Dwyer was the batter and Brimacombe won the first game easily.
In the second game Parrott was very bad
but was only hit safely five times, while Hawke was batted at critical times and each of his three bases on balls cost a run. Dwyer led off the second game at the close of the seventh inning. Attendance, 6,800.
Score:

Cincinnati.....1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-2 7 4
Baltimore.....0 5 1 3 2 0 0 0 3-7 13 2
Batteries—Merritt and Dwyer; Robinson
and Gleason. Umpire, Emale.

Baltimore.....0 3 0 0 0 0 0 0-3 5 4
Batteries—Murphy and Parrott; Robinson
and Hawke. Umpire, Emale.

The Colts Took the Game.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The Colts took the last game from the Brooklyn with the greatest of ease, making the seventh straight victory. The game was a hard one, but Anson was batted out in the forehand by a thrown ball
by Corcoran in the first inning, but played
the game out although suffering greatly.
Attendance, 6,200. Score:

Brooklyn.....0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0-5 13 4
Chicago.....2 3 2 1 0 0 1 1-13 10 2
Batteries—S. Brainer and Griffith; Dwyer
and Stein. Umpire, Jevne.

Game Between the Tailenders.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 17.—The tailenders
played a very interesting game. Lake's error
in the third and fourth inning lost
the game for the home team. The senators won out in the ninth on a base on balls, a sacrifice,
two singles and Inks' error. Clark's fielding and Abbey's batting were the features. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

Louisville.....0 0 2 0 0 1 1 1-6 4 5
Wash.....1 0 2 2 0 0 0 0-2 7 12 2
Batteries—Cote and Inks; McGuire and Merer. Umpire, Keefe.

A QUERY.

When Nellie's silent, I am puzzled.

One day I asked her what it was.
"A man could give and still retain,
"Oh, dear," said she, "another pig."
And sighed as if she were in pain.

When Nellie speaks, I am puzzled.
"Queer, ain't it?"
"I can't imagine what there is
That you can give and still retain.
Conundrums seem to be your life."
"My word," said I. She sighed again.

I thought one day I would propose—
My queer resolve.
I told my love and asked her hand.
She coyly blushed and sweetly said:
"You wish it? You may have it," and Upon my bosom dropped her head.

Alex, doth man reap what he sows?
My query solve.
When her I asked to set the day,
She pertly said, "This land is mine,
For I can also give away
A thing, yet keep it—draw the line."
—Robert Fletcher Woodward.

HER LITTLE FLOWER.

And She Sank to Rest Clutching the Tiny
Treasure to Her Breast.

She found the tiny, tender plant
when first it showed its trembling head
above the travel worn slabs of granite that paved the narrow alleyway which was her only playground. She gave a cry of delight when she saw the delicate shoot peeping out from between
the cold gray stones, and from that moment it filled a part of her life that heretofore had been empty. She nourished it with water and jealously guarded it from the onslaught of roaming
boys and the too near approach of cart wheels that came crunching through
the alley, and often did her violet eyes
tremble with suppressed tears as she saw the ponderous wheels rolling so close to her treasure.

Under her care and watchful attention it steadily grew, and when delicate leaves unfolded themselves and disclosed to her delighted eyes a blossom of sweetness her happiness was complete,
and she sank beside it and feasted her vision on loveliness she had never seen before.

One day she did not come at her
usual hour to moisten the thirsty plant,
and it would doubtless have perished
but for a gentle shower that came to kiss the drooping head. The next day
she did not come, and the lonely plant
got its only help from the leaking of a passing water cart. Far up one of the narrow rooms she lay on a little cot panting for breath. Her once rosy cheeks were now pale and white, and the soft blue eyes shone with a sparkling glow. Her head tossed restlessly
from side to side, and moans of pain crept from the drawn lips.

Occasional words broke from her, but
of such an incoherent nature that none
understood her until a boy came softly
into the room and gazed at the suffering
face curiously. "She wants her flower,"
he said as she moaned again, and like a flash he sped from the room, to return
in a few moments bearing an almost withered plant in his hand. As he held it aloft the lustrous eyes saw it, and two tiny wasted hands arose from the cover
and were outstretched to receive her treasure. She lifted it to her lips and rained kisses on the dust covered blossom,
which seemed to answer her caress
in a gleam of returning freshness.

She sank to sleep, still clutching the flower to her bosom, and awoke later
with a calm look of contentment covering her features.

As the hours wore on she grew weaker
and weaker until, when the shafts of morning's golden light first found their way into the quiet room, they fell aslant the cold, still form of a little girl, at whose cheek nestled a faded and withered flower, mingling itself in the faint smile that lingered yet around the perfect mouth.—Atlanta Constitution.

RAW EGGS AS A TONIC.

A raw egg is an excellent tonic with which to begin these warm days. It is strengthening and tends to prevent that tired feeling so prevalent at this season of the year. If prepared in the following way, it is really a delicious drink:
Put the yolk of an egg into a dish with
a teaspoonful of white sugar and a teaspoonful of orange or lemon juice and beat lightly together with a fork. Put the white on a plate and add a pinch of salt. Then with a broad bladed knife beat it to a stiff froth. Now, as lightly
as possible, mix all together in the dish.
Then as lightly transfer it to a clean tumbler, which it will nearly fill if properly made. It must not stand in a warm place, as it soon becomes liquid
and loses its snowy look. Any fruit juices may be used in place of orange
or lemon, or even brandy if the doctor
has ordered it.—New York Advertiser.

Meyerbeer.

Meyerbeer was so nervous and "fidgety"
about his works that when they were in course of preparation or rehearsal
or performance he never gave himself or any one else concerned a moment's peace of mind. He was constantly making changes or alterations in the score and would sometimes write a passage in three or four different colored
inks in order to try the different effects,
and then could not make up his mind
which was the best. He worried over his opera "L'Africaine" so long, delaying, retouching and polishing, even while it was in rehearsal, that the self-employed labor made him ill and he died before the first public performance.

An Awful Death.

A local band was one day playing at Dumfries when an old weaver came up and asked the bandmaster what that was they were playing.
"That is 'The Death of Nelson,'" solemnly replied the bandmaster.
"Aye, man," remarked the weaver,
"ye hae gaen him an awfu' death!"

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Samuel Morley has secured a situation as driver for the East Liverpool Ice company.

Neil Kitchell will entertain this evening in honor of his friend, Mr.
Kimbley, of Kentucky.

Harry Culbertson, of Walnut street,
is able to be about on crutches, and
will soon have recovered from his fall
down the elevator shaft.

The patrol was called to lower Fifth street Saturday afternoon to take in a drunken man but he had disappeared
before the wagon reached the place.

The condition of Andrew Allabaugh of East End, who was stricken with paralysis recently, is much improved
and his friends hope for his recovery.

Jacob Shenke left this morning to represent East Liverpool chapter, No.
100, Royal Arch Masons at the meeting
of the Grand chapter to be held in Columbus.

Mrs. Michael Fennell, of East
Market street, was preparing a chicken for dinner Saturday when the knife slipped and the point of her thumb was cut entirely off.

Complaint is again made that young men stand upon street corners and use the vilest imaginable language
when ladies are passing. A few convictions will likely settle the nuisance
for a time.

Matrimonial business is brisk in East Liverpool at present and a glance
at the list of marriage licenses in the New Lisbon court news shows that several couples have decided to unite
their fortunes.

It was hard work for the local un-
terrified to muster a corporal's guard
of delegates to attend the convention
at Alliance today. Only 10 tickets were sold at the station here for that place this morning.

Owing to the absence of Constable
Dick Albright the sale of J. J. Ali-son's outfit, on which Anderson Bros.,
foreclosed a chattel mortgage, has been postponed. The sale was booked for last Saturday afternoon.

John Lloyd Lee, P. H. D., delivered
two excellent sermons at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. The gentleman is from Minneapolis, and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L.
Thompson while in the city.

So far the Knowles' new end base ball club, who defeated the Standard
last week, have failed to put up their
half of the $20 forfeit for the proposed $50 game. The Standard management say they mean business and will hustle
for the stakes if their challenge is accepted.

A horse driven by a young man named Cook ran off on West Market street Saturday evening about 5:30 o'clock. The driver was thrown out,
and badly but not dangerously hurt.
The outfit was stopped near the Dresden pottery. The buggy was damaged considerably.

The street railway men have removed one source of danger along the line in blasting the big rock near the spring at "Driven From Home" hill.
The rock was an immense one and was gradually sliding toward the track. Dynamite made short work of it and the fragments were rolled over the hill.

A big meeting of the Ceramic City Cycle club is expected in city hall tomorrow night as there will be important business for consideration. The committee appointed to secure headquarters for the club will probably report and the names of several desirous of becoming members will be brought before the meeting.

The members of the Christian church yesterday morning showed their love and appreciation of their present pastor, C. W. Huffer, by giving him a practically unanimous call
to labor with them another year.
Reverend Huffer has endeared himself
to his congregation, and made many lasting friends since he has been in our midst.

Work on the new pottery at East
End's nearing completion, and in 12
or 15 days at the farthest clay will be made for immediate use. The sagzarmakers will start tomorrow or Wednesday. The mouldmaker has been at work for some time and there will be plenty of moulds when the start is made. Steam was raised in the boilers for the first time several days ago.

The committee appointed by council
to view the East End outlet east
have not yet gone over the ground,
although Engineer George and Councilman Marshall took a stroll in that vicinity Saturday. There will be considerable work in making a new outlet
and it will involve the resurrecting of plots and plans in the engineer's office as well as a conference with the water works trustees.

It does not seem to be generally understood that street cars will not stop
on Washington street, hill, although if passengers will take the trouble to look they will find signs to that effect
at the corner of Third street. One motorman was hailed by two ladies yesterday but did not stop. When they reached Fourth street he explained that he would have gotten a week's vacation if he had stopped.

HOW A HUSBAND ACTS

A Woman Tells a Very Pitiful Story.

THE BABY AS A CUSPIDORE

A Brother Who Will Not Work or Pay Board, but Delights in Sleeping on the Floor—A Remarkable Tale of Married Life in This City.

There is one woman in the city who is anxious to have the courts compel her husband to change his mode of living.

The other day a woman called at the office of Squire Travis, and told a story which truly shows that one half of the world is in ignorance of how the other half lives. She did not say how long they had been married, but made the fact plain that the whole family consists of four persons—the husband, a child, the husband's brother and herself. They live in a small house containing but one bed, and the total stock of coverings consists of enough clothes for perhaps two persons. As they cannot all sleep in the one bed the husband, who seems to be a boss of the most pronounced type, ordered all the clothes to be turned over to the brother. He wraps his bulky form in these, while the other members of the household attempt to woo sweet dreams upon the hard bed, with no other clothing than their wearing apparel. The wife does not like this system, and seems diametrically opposed to the brother. She says that he will not work, but is always ready to eat. He never misses a meal, neither does he ever contribute a cent toward the support of the family. He is an institution about the house which she has only endured because her husband seems to think that they could not live if separated. To the wife he is an abomination and to the husband a treasure. But however distasteful he may be, the brother is not the chief bone of contention in that household; it is the husband who makes the life of the complainant the most miserable in the world. He seems to have no regard for the laws of health, and thinks nothing of committing nuisances in the cellar of their home and at times in the kitchen. This is most annoying to the wife and she can't understand why she is compelled to endure it. Another charge brought against the man who promised to love, cherish and protect her is that he persists in transforming their child into a cuspidore, spitting tobacco juice on its head when occasion offers. He is also of a stubborn disposition, and according to the story refuses to hearken to the words of his wife. When she frequently insists that their finances are in poor condition he will not compel the brother to pay his board, and insists on the wife living as frugally as possible in order to make the miserable sum which he allows her last for a week. She said that she was expected to bear the expenses of this family of four with the meagre allowance of $1.25 each week. She knows that she has made that amount go around many times, but it is not an easy matter by any means. At times they have not had enough to eat, but that did not trouble the husband and brother very much. It was she and the babe who were compelled to suffer. To show the mean disposition of her "better half" she cited an instance of his total disregard of care in keeping the walls of their home clean. They moved into a house that had been pestered but a short time before, and the walls were clean and made the kitchen present an inviting appearance. The husband helped to carry in the stove, and when it was set up discovered that his hands were dirty. Instead of doing as a thousand other men would have done, he walked to the wall and deliberately rubbed what dirt would come off his hands on its clean surface, and then washed away the remainder. His wife objects to this, and does it so strongly that she asked the squire what means she should take to compel her husband to give her the proper support. After the justice had told her how to proceed, the woman left, promising to return. Whether she has convinced her husband by threatening to bring him in court, or is simply deliberating, are matters which will be made plain in the future.

The story as told by the woman is in turn humorous, disgusting and pitiful. If it is true, and she assured the squire that there were no mistakes, she is in a pitiable condition, and if there is a society it town to care for her some action should be taken. The child at least should be cared for, as it can never be made a useful member of society when covered with tobacco spit.

More Curiosities.
Michael McKinnon, of Second street, is the owner of a curiosity in the shape of a squash vine. It is 52 feet long and despite the dry weather 45 squashes of the grand variety have grown upon it. The vine is the wonder of all who have seen it, and although East Liverpool has produced several interesting squash stories this summer, this one takes first place. Mrs. McKinnon is the possessor of a second wonder. It is a tube rose bush four feet high and has 25 blossoms and buds.

A Novel Meeting Yesterday—Reverend Hall's Farewell Sermon.

The services at the Young Men's Christian association rooms yesterday afternoon were of a novel sort, representatives of different branches of employment making short speeches about their work in religious as well as the industrial lines.

The meeting throughout was an enjoyable one and very interesting, and all felt that the hour in the association rooms was well spent.

H. E. Hall preached his farewell sermon in the Second Methodist Episcopal church at East End, last night, in which he recalled the pleasant months spent with the congregation and the kind treatment he had received at the hands of all East Liverpool people. Although yet a student Mr. Hall's sermons have been so powerful that he has been mistaken for a regularly ordained minister and has always been called Reverend Hall. All his friends are sorry for his departure but feel certain that with the talent he now displays a three years course will place him among the most eminent of divines.

The session of the Second United Presbyterian church will meet in parsonage tonight for the transaction of important business.

On Wednesday night a congregational meeting will be held after the regular weekly prayer meeting services are concluded. Reverend Knox will then formally lay before his people his resignation, of which he informed those present at the last meeting.

Reverend Thompson, of Wheeling, will probably exchange pulpits with Rev. Knox next Sunday.

The Pittsburgh synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church will hold its 52d convention in the First Lutheran church, Pittsburgh, Dr. Geisinger, pastor, for one week, beginning tomorrow morning. Rev. J. G. Reinartz and Christian Wetzel, a delegate, will attend from here. This is the 50th year of the organization of the synod, and for a whole year it will be marked by special services in the churches it represents.

DON'T MENTION IT.

There Was Oceans of Fun and the Bobby Was Wild.

He imagines he is monarch of all he surveys when within the walls of his domicile, and he has been accustomed to rule as it were with a rod of iron. His slightest wish has been looked after with alacrity by his better half, as she was completely under his control. Had he been content with reasonable obedience, he might still be ruler of the roost. But of late he has passed the line of reason and issued orders which were dictatorial and humiliating in the extreme, and forbearance finally ceased to be a virtue on the part of his wife, a healthy, muscular, fine looking woman, and she forcibly and vigorously rebelled. He was astounded for the moment at her defiant attitude, and then attempted to force her to his will, going so far as to plant a vigorous slap upon her cheek. And then the torrent broke loose. Wildcats were not a circumstance. Enraged and indignant womanhood took control of the ship of state in that household, and in about two minutes time the cowardly husband was pummeled in a way which would have reflected credit upon the handiwork of James J. Corbett. He is a wiser and sadder creature, and is now glad to be allowed to live and breathe in the fortress where he once reigned supreme. And all this happened in a prominent residence in this city. Truth is stranger than fiction. Don't mention it.

They Took a Ride.

A well known business man has lost all faith in humankind as the result of a bicycle ride he took with a friend the other day. The friend is also a business man but he is accustomed to the wheel while the other is not yet an expert. The ride proposed was "only a few miles" but was nearer like 50 before it was finished. The invited party has been in the hands of his physician since, while his friend smiles and rides as of yore.

The Mules' Mishap.

A team of mules had the misfortune to fall into an open culvert just east of Wellsville Saturday and it took a half of a day to remove them. The animals were completely penned in and one of them was so badly injured it will probably have to be shot. The mules belonged to a farmer who was on his way to this city.

Will Meet Tonight.

The Phoenix club will meet in special session this evening for the transaction of important business. As the matter to be considered is of the utmost importance to members, all are expected to be present.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Ed Way is here from Chicago.

—M. J. Talbert, of Lima, is in the city on business.

—John Sanderson, of New Galilee, is here on business today.

—John W. Franklin, of Bowerston, is the guest of friends here.

—Mr. Hullings went to Pittsburgh Saturday night on a business visit.

—Miss Emma Martin, of Monongahela, Pa., is the guest of friends in West End.

—Miss Maggie Todd has returned from a three weeks' visit with friends in Homestead, Pa.

—The Misses Kue, of Cook street, returned yesterday after a visit with friends in Steubenville.

—Mrs. John Cain, of Lincoln avenue, returned Saturday night from a visit with Pittsburgh friends.

—Captain J. H. Simms and William Hackworth were visiting friends in Industry, Pa., Saturday night.

—Miss Jesse Gordon, of Ninth avenue, has returned from a visit with East Liverpool friends.—Beaver Star.

—E. J. Cravin, of Crawfordsville, Ind., was a guest at the home of his brother-in-law, Doctor Roe, over Sunday.

—Miss Mame V. Maher returned to her home in Salineville after a visit of several days with friends in this city.

—Homer H. Swaney, a prominent attorney of McKeesport, was a guest at the home of Ex-Mayor John Hall yesterday.

—Miss Arvilla Dawson is spending a few days in Beaver, the guest of her sister, Mrs. George W. Mackall, Fourth street.

—Miss Ella Smith has returned to her home in Wheeling after spending a pleasant month with relatives in this city and Wellsville.

—Mrs. Ralph Thompson, of Salineville, visited her son Will, of this city, last week and left Saturday night, for Pittsburgh, accompanied by Roy Jones, whom she will visit.

—Mrs. David R. Locke, of Newport, Ky., who has been the guest of General Freight Agent H. J. Lawrence, of the Lake Shore railroad, spent Sunday with her niece, Mrs. William Goeckemeyer, of this city. She returned to Pittsburgh today and will go to Columbus on her way home.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Going to College.

Captain John Simms, who has been in charge of Company E for over a year, left this afternoon for Cleveland, where he will enter college. At a recent meeting of the company the Captain gave notice of his intended departure, and that he expected to resign his commission.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Read Them Carefully.

What? Those handsome bills which the News Review office put out for George C. Murphy, the popular clothier, on Saturday last. Murphy carries first-class goods, at most reasonable prices, and this accounts for his immense and constantly increasing business.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cents a bottle for sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

Working on the Sewer.

The Walnut street sewer where it crosses the railroad is being cleaned today by a force of men belonging to the section gang. The recent rains washed sand and rubbish into the sewer, and it was almost completely stopped up.

NOTICE TO COUNCILMEN.
A special meeting of council will be held this evening, Sept. 17, to make a loan in anticipation of a special assessment and issue bonds therefor.

CHAS. BERG,
President of Council.

Still They Come.

Alex Brown's household goods arrived this morning from Brilliant. The family will live here.

Married Schoolteachers.

Married women can still be appointed to positions in the Milwaukee public schools. At the meeting of the executive committee of the school board Aug. 3 the movement was defeated which attempted to discourage matrimony on the part of the teachers of the Milwaukee public schools, in that it proposed the retirement from the force of teachers of all married women who had husbands upon whom they could depend for support and the nonemployment in the future of married women as teachers.

Two Guides to Happiness.

Here are a couple of guides to happiness which some wise person has lately discovered: "For a fit of passion take a walk in the open air. You may then speak to the wind without hurting any person or proclaiming yourself to be a simpleton. For a fit of idleness count the ticks of a clock. Do this for one hour, and you will be glad to pull off your coat and go to work like a man."

Central Asia Tales.

The English tale of "Cinderella" is found in the Siberian tale of "Papalluga," in the German tale of "Aschenputtel" and in the fable of La Fontaine about the milkmaid and her pail. The legend of "Beauty and the Beast" is also found in the myths of the Hindoo, Greek and Norseman. All of these tales had a common origin in central Asia.—New York Sun.

To tell our own secrets is generally folly, but that folly is without guilt. To communicate those with which we are intrusted is always treachery, and treachery for the most part combined with folly.—Johnson.

Nashville is the first city in the world for hard wood lumber and the largest milling city in the south.

Help the Ladies.

Don't forget the entertainment to be given at the rink on next Saturday night. Haines' band will discourse sweet music. The most palatable refreshments will be served up. Take your lady friends with you and help the good cause along.

Home From the South.

T. L. Potts is home from a southern trip in the interests of the Union pottery. This is Link's first trip and he was successful from the start.

Teaching School.

Miss Carrie Campbell has secured a position as teacher in the Allison school, Grant district. She entered on her duties this morning.

T. R. Bradshaw left for a western trip in the interests of the West End pottery this morning.

BEAVER COUNTY FAIR.

Sept. 25 to 28 excursion tickets to Beaver County fair will be sold from East Liverpool at the round trip rate of $50; return coupons valid until Saturday, Sept. 29, inclusive. s27
